

FAMILY PROTECTION TRUSTS

TRUSTS

Trusts are a valuable planning tool if you want to ensure that your wishes are carried out and that the people you wish to inherit do so. By placing your assets into Trust, you can avoid situations where inheritance is lost from your immediate family due to divorce. Equally, if there is someone you specifically do not wish to inherit from your estate, a Trust can be the perfect way to avoid this as family members can challenge Wills if they feel they have been unfairly treated.

Trusts can also help to avoid the future costs of probate.

Trusts can also help avoid your children being disinherited if your partner re-marries upon your death helping avoid a new family benefiting.
